MISSING IN CALIFORNIA INDIAN COUNTRY: SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EVENT

The Soboba Band of Luiseno Indians Reservation - Soboba Casino Resort

Missing in California Indian Country events are taking place throughout the four regions of our state. They, in part, serve as critical public safety events for tribal communities and aim to elevate the state's response to the Missing Murdered Indigenous Persons crisis (MMIP). These events will allow for loved ones to report an individual missing, receive an update on an active missing person's case, and/or provide a DNA sample for inclusion in the DOJ's Unidentified Persons Database. Missing in California Indian Country - Southern California Region has been developed and planned in collaboration with the tribal governments and tribal citizens within Southern California to be most responsive to the region's tribal community's needs. Local, state, tribal and federal justice partners have come together for this event to share critical information, resource availability, and partnership in addressing the MMIP crisis in California.
