John William Templeton, Author

Our Roots Run Deep: the Black Experience in California, Vols. 1-4; Road to Ratification: How 27 States Faced the Most Challenging Issue in American History; Citizenship for All: 150th anniversary of the 14th Amendment; We Fought, We Vote: 150th anniversary of the 15th Amendment; Curator, California African-American Freedom Trail; Contributor, African-Americans in the West, Oxford Encyclopedia of African-American History, Vol. 1, 1619-1890, African-American National Biography; Co-Founder, 18th annual National Black Business Month; former editor, San Jose Business Journal

I have shared my concerns with Attorney General Bonta that the Task Force's agenda is headed in counterproductive directions. Having recently celebrated the 30th anniversary of my four-volume history of African-Americans in the Golden State and having explored the Underground Railroad in California extensively for the 6,000 site California African-American Freedom Trail, I would hope that the Task Force would avoid allowing preconceived notions of the Black experience to set it up for failure.

During the debate for ACA 5 last year, we demonstrated that a proper understanding of the centrality of the Black experience led to bipartisan appreciation for constructive policy changes.

However, communicating about race is a highly specialized discipline that creates land mines for those who approach it from established norms.

Even after winning the California Sesquicentennial Commendation in 1998 and the Library Laureate from the Friends of the San Francisco Public Library in 2002, I was flummoxed when Vito Sgromo, curator of the Historic State Capitol Museum, asked me to interpret the framed nine-foot copy of the California adoption of the 13th Amendment in 2007.

It led to the exhibition with the Legislative Black Caucus, Gold Rush Abolitionists, and eventually to finding every state legislative resolution of adoption for the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments. Like California, in most cases, no one had ever looked at these documents.

We have just seen nationally how misinformation can actually turn into legislation with the declaration of Juneteenth as a national holiday. As I have pointed out as historian for San Francisco Juneteenth over the past 15 years, the most cited premise is factually wrong.

- 1) The Emancipation Proclamation did not end slavery
- 2) Galveston and the south Texas coast were in Union hands on its effective date on Jan. 1, 1863

- 3) Fourteen regiments of U.S. Troops of African Descent had been in the state, including five as early as November 1863
- 4) The Civil War did not end until 1866 when those regiments completed the occupation of Texas

Correcting a historic record once it has gained wide traction is incredibly difficult. In the wake of the Black Lives Matter movement, several organizations have sought to explore slavery in California because it seemed consistent with commonly held beliefs about African-American history.

That paradigm does not fit the state's unique history. As I found when writing African-Americans in the West for the Oxford Encyclopedia of African-American History, there is a profound bias to the East Coast. Noting that my specialty was California, I asked my editor what they considered the West. I was told that I would have to cover 23 states west of the Mississippi because the entire remainder of the book was devoted to the states east of the river.

There is a similar bias toward the English language; not spoken in three fourths of the current United States at the time when Spanish pobladores first moved into Alta California.

I concluded that there was a "thin-air" hypothesis to California history, dating not merely from the discovery of gold, but from the arrival of East Coast whites by ship a year later.

That hypothesis was reinforced by the philanthropy of new migrants to form research institutions like the Society of California Pioneers, Huntington Library and Bancroft Collection.

California, and its Black residents, were the primary catalysts for the end of slavery, including members of Dr. Brown's church, Third Baptist Church, founded on West Indian Emancipation Day in 1852.

Their ability to end the right of testimony and franchise act by 1862 set the stage for the Emancipation Proclamation and the ability to reverse the Dred Scott decision by 1865 with the 13th Amendment and in 1868 with the 14th Amendment.

California has its own unique issues to address:

- 1) How should we calculate the loss to Black Californio land grantees from the loss of their holdings to squatters?
- 2) What was the value of the financing provided by Capt. William Alexander Leidesdorff for the California campaign by U.S. forces during the Mexican War and how should his role and land holdings be properly commemorated? To wit, there are 145 schools named for African-Americans, but none for Leidesdorff, who donated the state's first public school

- 3) A corrupt legal decision led to the loss of 532,000 acres held by former Jefes Politico (Governor) Pio Pico and Andres Pico. What have been the wealth consequences of that action.

Yet, having moved to California in 1987 to be editor of the San Jose Business Journal, I think the task force would be well served to focus on the contemporary gold rush, which actually engages matters within the jurisdiction of the Attorney General.

- 4) What are the consequences of the failure to enforce the Unruh Civil Rights Act for technology employers over the past 30 years?
- 5) How can bias in artificial intelligence be eliminated as Dr. Timnit Gebru and her colleagues in Blacks in AI are exposing?
- 6) How do local governments stop the egregious give aways to developers that gentrify communities such as the Oakland A's Howard Terminal scam
- 7) Why the UC and California State systems combined have fewer than a dozen African-American history faculty?

When the San Francisco school board took steps to remove the Victor Artuanoff mural from George Washington High School, which metastasized into changing the name of more than 40 schools, my contacts at the National Park Service asked me to shed some light on the Works Progress Administration genre that is present throughout San Francisco.

Students at the school had raised concerns in 1974, leading to a second mural by Dewey Crumpler, who insisted that the original mural should stay.

I was baffled that, in the concern about the Artuanoff mural, that the presence of The History of Athletics by Sargent Johnson, the largest piece of public art in the city by the leading artist of the Harlem Renaissance was completely ignored at the school. It also gave context for interpreting Artuanoff that Johnson was in a leadership position for the Federal Arts Project and would not have blessed other works at the school had they not been appropriate expressions towards his aspirations for depictions of Black people in public art.

The runaway train careened off the rails.

Black history is not a cause. When approached that way, it is damaged. Early California writers like J.B. Sanderson, J.E. Francis and James Monroe Whitfield mastered changing minds with sophisticated literature and scholarship.

The task for investigative bodies such as this is not to prosecute a case, but to provide the official record.

That was the role of the Joint Committee on Reconstruction in the U.S. Congress, which took testimony through field hearings in 11 states that led to the overwhelming passage of the 14th Amendment, the first and most important African-American political accomplishment, because no one could dispute the authentic witness of those who had won their freedom on the battlefield.

That period gives us a template for how to successfully navigate America's most challenging issue.

As I tour the state next week on a mapping expedition for the California African-American Freedom Trail, we will stop at the California Rodeo in Salinas to see the legacy of Jesse Stahl, the most esteemed rider of the early 20th century.

Although he was known to be the top rider, there were no movies about him. So our conception of "cowboys" in American history was completely different from the reality in the rodeo.

A century later, we can list on two hands, the number of depictions of African-Americans as cowboys.

In all 58 counties, there are such seminal figures who literally made history but aren't in the history. Our approach to setting the stage for a just California has been to map those 6,000 sites so that places like Los Banos can celebrate how the 9th Cavalry stopped there on their way to Yosemite.

The goal is to reach a result which can turn into policy, not hash tags.

Ms. Reyes, I'm sending you my entire file to date. I would like to engage your help in this matter, since white people don't understand what our community needs in the way REPARATIONS.

- This is an earthquake!

Maybe because you are a Latina, Brown as we're referred to, my case, my rip-off, will resonate with you since it doesn't have a scintilla of resonance with the White community...none of the enclosed correspondence has received an answer. I heard your interview (I was in the car, so wasn't able to write down any information) over NPR, Maria Hinojosa, Sunday, 06/27/2021.

The white community doesn't recognize, or maybe they do and don't want to, the importance of education needed by our community. We people of color have to struggle for everything we get. That's how the White people keep us people of color subjugated.

I hope you can assist me with what seems to be pleas to the wind.

I am not seeking punishment of the perpetrators, leave that to the legislators.

I want the 'house' I legally and rightfully should own. There are groups across the Nation mushrooming, demanding reparations for what has been illegally stolen, deprived from the people of color.

More important than monetary reparations are: legacy; land; education; environment to include the air we breathe, the water we drink, the building materials, sanitation, medical, ...

BECAUSE MY NAME IS M.J. "CARLOS" BERMUDEZ A HOUSE WAS ILLEGALLY SWINDLED AWAY FROM ME. I WAS THE ONLY BIDDER ON THE 'HOUSE,' THE CRIMINAL (LAWYER) REALTOR REPRESENTING THE SELLER, illegally bought/stole (by law STEA is required to reveal he is competing against me to buy the house, he did not) the house from under me. Moreover, this transaction was a dual representation, by the Stea Realty, his wife Yali He (a principal in the R.E firm) was 'supposed' to have been representing me and did not reveal the deliberate, illegal swindle they were perpetrating against me ...they still own the house. After a 3 ½ week Trial, Alameda Superior Court: No. RG 188889174, I hold a worthless (jury) judgment in my favor; that was a miscarriage/malpractice of justice, against the criminal Realtor: Daniel Stea: DBA Stea Realty.

The subject 'house' is on Ayala Street in the "sweet spot" of Rockridge, Oakland, California. Rockridge is a City of white affluence, adjacent to Piedmont. There is a list of these criminal acts, Manhattan Beach, southern California, beginning to come to light. With my case, these Criminal actions continue to go on today, when will it stop?!?

I have (recently) written several letters to Hon. A.G. Merrick Garland; I have written to Reparations Task Force, Lisa Holdr, and if my story has merit, interest to you I would like to enlist your assistance in however you my join my 'Petition.' If you see the merit in my case and want more information, my letters to A.G. Hon. Garland, Lisa Holdr, I would be happy to share my file with you which will elaborate on my 'story.'

Thank you,

Dear Attorney General Merrick Garland:

I am writing to you because of the profound importance of this matter. My legacy to my children. I am an 82 year old elder who has worked very hard, at times under strenuous circumstances so that my children, who have also worked hard, could benefit from the precious 'gifts' of life this wonderful Country offers the people from immigrant background.

This is (one if the reasons) 'the WHY' people of color cannot advance in our society, in spite of their efforts and achievements. Egregious subjugation, abuse of power, and plunder we people of color must endure every day of our lives.

Even after one spends/expends a life time of savings to expose the perpetrators, even after an Alameda Superior Court jury finds in their behalf, one is faced with issues of rising court costs, attorney mal-practice, (admitted) mistakes by the presiding judge, "one" is still unable to bring the perpetrators to justice. There is something gravely wrong with this picture and why I am writing to you to investigate this matter.

If ever our revolution is to turn the corner of systemic race-ism, it has to start at the grass root level. The George Floyd (sad) example is only the beginning, because these examples exist, after many years of being practiced, in an environment that has learned to game the system...finding 'experts' to testify to whatever point of view your money wants to buy.

Bottom line: Daniel Stea, atty., Stea Realty, (Oakland, CA) held an open house. I wanted to buy house (had previous business transactions with Daniel Stea), was the ONLY offer on the 'open house', naively asked Daniel Stea who would represent me (?) he offered his wife, also business partner, Yali He. I asked if I would get proper representation and he reassured me I would. The person representing me previously from his office was no longer working for him. Stea without the required notice he was bidding against me, illegally bought the property from under me. He (wife), still own the property.

I was no longer able to pursue my claim because, I'd run out of $$$ and fell seriously ill due to infections, back surgery, 4 hospital confinements.

I still want the property, the schools for my grandchildren, appreciation of the acquisition and to settle for simply damages would not be justice. I ask for only a level playing field. I could (financially) match (and would) what he paid for the property. There's more to my story but the exposed information should be sufficient.

I have made claims with the Dept. of Real Estate and the Bar Assoc. Alameda Superior Court No. Rg18889174.

We have just been through a dreadful administration and we are still living the after effects of these past 4 years. If you compare the Obama administration to the Trump administration it is nothing short of cataclysmic.

Anyone who has lived in this country and is over 65 years old has never experienced the honor, the terror, the threat to our democracy, that we people, of this nation, are experiencing right now!

I have written 4 previous letters

I wanted to discuss the role of Grass Root Organizations in publicizing these hearings to ensure adequate public participation, in particular for the living descendants of US Chattel Slavery.

AB3121 Section 8301.4 (d) states “The Task Force may enter into contracts for the purposes of conducting research or surveys, preparing reports, and performing other activities necessary for the discharge of the duties of the Task Force with state departments, agencies, and other instrumentalities, federal departments, agencies, and other instrumentalities, and private entities.”

I want to recognize Tammi Mack, KJLH Radio, Stevie Wonder and Fox Soul for allowing NAASD Los Angeles the opportunity to utilize their platforms as a grassroots organization to publicize today’s hearing for this Task Force. We would be more effective in canvassing areas in Los Angeles with written materials, phone banking, and town halls/ listening sessions, with monetary & administrative support from this body to more meaningfully engage the Descendant Community in Los Angeles. I also recommend the commission look into the SBA Navigator Program which utilizes hubs and spokes for targeted engagement.

Subject: Additional Questions/comments

My computer browser is stuck in the queue. I have asked my question, here are additional comments:

1. Ask the commission to have a narrow focus on this issue of reparations. The US must make atonement of its own history of slavery. In addition, the US institution of slavery is called “peculiar” because it was unlike that in any other country. It’s simply not realistic, nor will it be effective to try to address every single “black” group that has been aggrieved via this commission. There will be push back from the other side, and those who are anti reparations will use the “lets help all black groups” as a wedge between reparations and the black community. It seems what you are trying to accomplish and issues you are trying to tackle are too broad and you don’t have enough time to tackle them all. Narrow the Focus (a) cash reparations (or a derivative of this) for descendants of American slavery AND policy changes for Black Californians; (b) as goes California, so goes the country (see the Crown Act): investigate participating in a reparations super fund (there are a lot of articles on this) (c) don’t reinvent the wheel: use the Jewish holocaust survivors/Japanese/Guam model of reparations the US has executed in the past as a guide
2. The reparations messaging needs to be consistent across the country: for PR/media please work with MORE (mayors reparations coalition) and the federal task force reparations and reparations commission in other states

- 2) If there's no press list, are you the person I should contact if I have specific questions on the upcoming meetings?

We're planning to send someone from KQED to the meetings and I wanted to make sure we have all the info. Thanks so much!

I respectfully request that the task force look into the Burgess family story and land that was taken by the State of California et al. Rufus Burgess (Great Great Grandfather) arrived in Coloma in 1849 before record of any Gooch or Monroe family. Our great grandfather Rufus M Burgess arrived in 1851 and was set free on arrival according to state documents?

In 1869 Rufus Burgess was buried under his slave name Nelson Bell and his land was taken by the state of California. In 1900 Rufus M Burgess died and was buried with his mother Annie Burgess, listed as his wife. Annie Married Rufus Burgess in 1864 and died in 1886. She remained in the Burgess home across from the blacksmith shop on main street until her death. We have photos of the home still standing in 1886 even though the probate records of Nelson Bell aka Rufus Burgess ordered the house to be carted away or burned down.

In 1950 state employees raised the Burgess home which would have marked the location of land and orchards. This was the home of Rufus Burgess aka Nelson Bell. I would love the opportunity to present our full case to the task force, in addition to all the documents that I have that support how our families land and wealth were taken by state officials.

Today there is little to no acknowledgement of the Burgess family in Coloma, largely due to all the surrounding the Emmanuel Church aka African Church that was last legally owned by Rufus M Burgess . This story in my opinion should be the highlight of the charge for reparations in Northern California.

PS. The man in the photo is Rufus Burgess aka Nelson Bell and his face was made to be purposely darker to conceal his identity, considering Rufus M Burgess would have only been 23 years old when this photo was taken in 1852.

Hello,

I am glad to be able to get back to you with some information - which Burgess brother is this, by the way?

I'm attaching some scans for your information. To the best of our understanding, the African Methodist Episcopal Church is the building that is now called the Emmanuel (Methodist Episcopal) Church.

Please let me know if I can be of further help. Thank you for the photograph of a page of a document signed by the tax collector in 1879. I have put it into our AME file but if you are able to provide a more smooth and complete image that would be a great addition.

Sara,

Hoping the you might be able to help with some history and reference to discoveries from our records. In 1879 George Ingram purchased a plot of land that referred to Lot 3 and referenced an Afro -American Church on the land.

Is the Church still there? Do you have any documents of that deed which would have been in March of 1879. Where can I/we find the maps that show what Lot 3 consisted of?

Current history shows no record of an African American Church in Coloma?

Thank you for looking into this for me/us

Hello Ms. Burgess,
Ms. Elosia Stratton of St. Andrew's AME gave me your e-mail contact information. I believe Elosia told you that I am going to be doing some articles re the pioneer and early African American residents of El Dorado County. I don't know if she shared the following with you. I just sent her this information late last evening:

A friend of mine is an archivist for the Methodist Church western Conference located at the Pacific School of Religion at U.C. Berkeley. I found reference to an item called "Colored Minister's Minutes of 1863 that made reference to an AME church in Coloma and my friend, Dr. Stephen Yale located them! It was very exciting for me!!!! No one in Coloma per se knew there was ever an African Methodist Church in Coloma. From that information I was able to get people in Coloma to look for plat maps and from there we found the location of that site. Bottom line, I do know the location of said church in Coloma. However, Ca. State Parks in Coloma does not want me to release the location of the property of the AME Church in Coloma as yet for reasons of protecting the site from vandalism so I ask your discretion to not publicize this. You may already know this from your family's lore but the AME Church in Coloma existed on a small lane between the Monroe and Burgess homes. In 1879 for some reason the church defaulted on its taxes and the church was forfeited.

To make a long story short, the County attorney at that time [1879] bought the property [His name was George Ingham] and he in turn gave the property to the elder Mr. Burgess. There is a deed on file at the El Dorado County Recorder's Office to this effect. Mr Burgess, like Mr. Monroe seems to have acquired a good deal of property in Coloma. I am trying to find out two things though about the church and I am hoping that you may be able to help me; one, did the African American children of Coloma attend school at the church before 1875, and second, what finally became of the church; did it burn in one of the fires in Coloma or did the State with lack foresight, burn it down as I'm told they did the Monroe House?

To whom it may concern:

Unfortunately, many Black Americans cannot trace their own ancestry. Many families were force to separate during slavery and many families were forced to use their slave masters' last names. These reasons, and many others, make it almost impossible for any Black American trace their own ancestry and learn of the history of their family.

I propose this form of reparations to be included in the reparation package:

FREE access to ALL genealogy, research, records, and African American history museums. This access should be granted on all State, Federal and private genealogy platforms. We cannot change the past, but Black Americans deserve to know who their ancestry without having to pay any fee as it has been paid in full in million times over.

Hi my name is Mario Allen

I've experienced racism all my life between California and the southern states. I was born in Memphis TN, grew up in Southern California for 10 years where I spent 4 years in foster care, I moved back to TN at 15, graduated from college in TN, spent most of my adult life and career in TN, now I moved back to CA, Bay Area 2 and half years ago. I understand the CA dynamics of racism and as a survivor, advocate, and a strong black man, I've mentored, formed none profits and partnered with many groups in efforts to help reverse systematic racism and help black people with better survival skills.

I worked in Murfreesboro TN for 9 years at Verizon ending my career in 2018 after experiencing heavy racism and advocating for many people under attack only to be blackballed and retaliated against. I also experience racism in courts that took my daughter and now I'm left to look for her in the state of CA which is the reason I moved back to CA. Since moving to Cali I've experienced high levels of racism in the public, police, seeking housing, and work. I knew my journey would be hard but I never imagined my journey in CA would so harsh. I think my support will be useful because I understand different forms of racism from two demographics that help me understand the magnitude of the problem.

I've seen systematic racism tear apart my family, community and strip me of the wealth, my child, my career, my social status. Racism has taken my freedoms and violated my human rights in so many ways that I understand ways to fight back against it. I'm looking for the opportunity to find employment on the Reparations advisory team or assistant in dismantling systematic racism. Racism affects all of the classes of black people from the top, the middle class is the hardest hit and the poor. The poor community is being bullied and needs reviving and the middle class is under attack during these times. The thriving class of blacks is what society hates and attacks the most out of jealousy and envy especially against the black man.

- Entrepreneurs are denied prefer vendor contracts and government contracts (I can identify these areas)
- The middle class is excluded from high-paying jobs and leadership roles. (I can identify this area)
- Black people especially black men are excluded from government-funded programs. (I can identify these areas)

Organizational power has to be limited because the largest group of people in the country middle class are popularizing systematic racism because companies normalize the behavior and keep these systems alive in the public. They create a social hierarchy of exclusions based on dehumanization ending with the black male at the bottom and the black woman is not far. Racism is a superior complex and companies are maintaining that base on how they distribute the wealth. Several Laws have to be created to protect the people and not the corporations because corporations fuel racism in society and should be accountable and responsible for fixing the harm. If racism is not handled on all class levels with a major focus on the middle class, society will extract everything given to black people and enslave them more and form stronger forms of Jim Crow. Most people spend more time at work, find friends, form groups and use the influence from work in society. (I can identify these areas)

Over the past 6 months, I've been in communications with Senator Dave Cortese Office and several black and brown organizations to find ways to undo systematic racism. I've identified many perpetrators and systems that operate in corruption with police departments, civil rights groups, government-funded groups such as housing, civil rights, supplemental funding groups. I've raised many flags that our government legislators have no answer too and I need to be part of the undoing of systematic racism. I've experienced discrimination all my life and I have been looking for ways to stop the abuse against masses of black people.

During the 2 and half years I've been in California I've partnered with black organizations to support the black community and I know I can be effective in my support. I've learned a lot about systematic racism through experience which is why I'd like to help. It would be an honor to serve on The Reparations Task Force Committee to help restore black lives. Please contact me, Thank you.

Dear Reparations Task Force,

At the suggestion of Joan at the office of Senator Steven Bradford, I am contacting you about the Task Force to study reparations.

Might we be able to speak on the phone sometime?

Our group would like to learn more your work and how we might be of service.

We are also planning a teach-in on the subject, later in 2021.

I have subscribed to your email list on your website.

Thank you kindly,

Thank you to governor Newsome for taking the initiative to start reparations discussions and compensation for African Americans.

I lived in California from 1982 to 2000 and there were so many Discriminatory factors in the health care system for African Americans and we have suffered greatly.

I am one that has been severely abused by the health care system and was not able to have more children because of sterilization by a doctor during my surgery and I would like to discuss this issue in length with someone who can assist with this issue.

It was extremely disturbing and still affects my family until now. I really hope that we who have suffered so greatly and will finally be taken seriously for all of the savage inequalities that have nearly destroyed generations.

Respectfully yours,

B. Roberts

From: Antar Keith <saxony-vicechair@democratsabroad.de>

Subject: Democrats Abroad Reparations Task Force
Attachments: Resolution to Support H.R. 40 - Reparations Study Bill.pdf

Greetings,

My name is Antar Keith, the Chair of the Democrats Abroad Reparations Task Force.

With at least 6.7 million U.S. voters abroad, Democrats Abroad is a force to be reckoned with. As an organization, DA exists both as the official foreign arm of the Democratic Party and as a DNC-recognized State Party representing Americans abroad. (As a State Party, DA would number as the 11th most populous.)

Democrats Abroad is in support of the federal legislation H. R. 40 and all further bills and laws in support of studying and developing U.S. Reparations until they are passed, and passed in a way that delivers full acknowledgment of the magnitude of anti-Black racism, restitution as agreed upon by the aggrieved, and closure for African-Americans (for further info, please see the attached resolution, which was adopted by the organization).

The DA Reparations Task Force aims to bring greater attention to recent developments in state reparations task forces, like California's, as well as the House Reparations Bill currently in discussion in U.S. Congress. Thus, our first goal is to create ties to existing task forces and advocacy groups, share knowledge, and work together to create greater awareness and demand for reparatory justice for Black Americans.

Currently, the only state-level reparations task forces within the Democratic Party are the California State Reparations Task Force and the Democrats Abroad Reparations Task Force. It is for this reason that we hope our two teams can work together and remain in close contact.

As a global-level task force, our ultimate goals are to:

- (1) to support the development of further municipal, state, and federal Reparations Task Forces within America;
- (2) and to coordinate global voter mobilization behind municipal, state, and federal reparation policies and programs.

In building on the promise of reparatory justice, we would love if any members of the California Reparations Task Force would agree to speak (virtually) to our members (all U.S. citizens) about the fight to create California's Reparations Task Force, as well as the Task Force's experiences in researching history behind California's call for reparatory justice.

The DA Reparations Task Force is regularly looking for connections in the fight for reparatory justice with a focus on acknowledgement, redress, closure. In this pursuit, we have recently spoken with the director of the Dr. Ron Daniels, the director National African-American Reparations Commission about the call for Reparations and what is needed to secure passage of the federal Reparations Study Bill (H.R. 40). We have also recently spoken with former Ohio State Senator Nina Turner, who is a current candidate for Ohio U.S. House

Representative (OH-11), about the need for U.S. Reparations to answer both a call for justice as well as a viable and strategic answer to the threat that systemic discrimination and voter suppression pose the Black Americans.

See the Nina Turner talk here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PiGGSItKZdY>

So again, we would love to speak with the California Task Force to discuss more how our Task Forces can coordinate and work towards our shared goals of closing a painful chapter of American history. We would love to educate our voters on the challenges Black Americans have faced and currently face, how these challenges affect Black socioeconomic lived realities and civic engagement, and most importantly, how we can work together to promote reparations as a vehicle for addressing the root causes of legacy problems rooted in slavery, Jim Crow, and contemporary discrimination.

Would you be willing to schedule a time to speak with us at some point in the coming weeks/months? Furthermore, what contacts can you provide that can elicit further help or resources in order to educate Americans abroad on the importance of U.S. Reparations for Black Americans?

Best,
Antar Keith

In Support of H.R. 40 and the Commission to Study U.S. Reparations

Proposed by: Antar Keith (DA Germany, DPCA Voting Rep)

Co-sponsors: listed below

Whereas the act of reparations is not a transfer of wealth from one person to another, nor is it an assignment of blame to any one individual; and

Whereas reparations are a national obligation to acknowledge past wrongs and how they still impact Americans, as well as an attempt to redress said wrongs through atonement and provision of closure for the trauma they have wrought;¹² and

Whereas the obligation to redress belongs to the state – not to any individual – and must not be limited to mere restitution, i.e., the restoration of an aggrieved party to a condition before injustice occurred; but must include atonement, i.e., when a culpable institution meets conditions of forgiveness acceptable to the aggrieved;¹³ and

Whereas H.R. 40 – the Commission to Study and Develop Reparation Proposals for African-Americans Act, a bill originally introduced in 1989 and most recently advanced by the House Judiciary Committee on April 15, 2021 – offers an opportunity to begin researching how the U.S. government could fulfill one of its oldest obligations; and

Whereas H.R. 40 seeks to study not only how Black Americans have suffered under racialized terror, but also how a national apology and redress for slavery, as well as for de jure and de facto racial and economic discrimination, could reverse their effects on Americans today;¹⁴ and

Whereas such effects stunt Black American foundational wealth, economic security, and political engagement, and are inherently tied: to historic anti-Black paradigms beginning with the 1619 arrival of African slaves to what would become the United States;¹⁵ to

¹² Pres. Biden also offers support for studying reparations: <https://www.reuters.com/article/us-usa-biden-slavery-idUSKBN2AH2K9>

¹³ Darity, William A. "Introduction." From Here to Equality: Reparations for Black Americans in the 21st Century, The University of North Carolina Press, 2020, pp. 12–13.

¹⁵ The Emancipation Proclamation ended U.S. involvement in the trade of slaves, but did not end slavery as an institution. The 13th Amendment (1865) outlawed slavery but not as a form of punishment. Black people were not made legal citizens until the ratification of the 14th Amendment and could not vote until the 15th Amendment in 1868. Despite these reforms, many states imposed their own restrictive measures to prevent Black American voting.

denial of property ownership;¹⁶ and to laws which coerced Black Americans into slave-like working conditions;¹⁷ and

Whereas post-Civil War white supremacist ideology inspired both terrorism¹⁸ and discriminatory policies,¹⁹ with many levels of government passing and weaponizing Jim Crow laws which calcified the low-socioeconomic status of most Black Americans for generations; and

Whereas Jim Crow laws banned Black Americans from “white-designated” areas and occupations, from voting and political representation, from scholastic endeavors, from medical care, and from criminal justice, and left Black Americans at a heavy disadvantage;²⁰ and

Whereas contemporary Black disenfranchisement is maintained by systems of predatory policing; mass incarceration (exacerbated by legal provisions such as the “three-strikes law” and disproportionate sentencing); and institutional racism; tracing a direct continuum with past forms of discrimination; and

Whereas both major national political parties have, for too long, delayed a sound resolution to the economic crises facing Black America, which impacts communal health, education, and security;²¹ and

Whereas Black Americans are aggrieved at the impunity with which unarmed Black men and women have been killed by an increasingly militarized police force; and

Whereas there has been no acknowledgement of the direct linkages between modern police brutality and the Slave Patrol origins of U.S. policing; and

Whereas the Summer 2020 Black Lives Matter protests in reaction to George Floyd’s death showed that many Black Americans can no longer tolerate systemic racism and discrimination; and ¹⁶ The Homestead Acts in 1862-66 encouraged Black land ownership, but systemic racism prevented Blacks from taking advantage of these laws. White Americans capitalized on them instead, gaining land ownership and foundational wealth.

¹⁷ The Black Codes, (1865-1866), created a post-Civil War intersection between labor and incarceration, and ultimately facilitated forms of de facto slavery (e.g., sharecropping).

¹⁸ High-profile attacks included the Red Summer of 1919; the 1920 Election Day massacre of Ocoee, Florida’s Black residents; and the 1921 race riots and devastation perpetrated against the Greenwood district, or “Black Wallstreet” area, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, among many others throughout the country.

¹⁹ Institutional obstacles to voting pre-Civil Rights Act (1868-1964) included police intimidation, poll taxes, and arbitrary literacy tests. Obstacles in the post-Civil Rights Act era (1964-present) include felon disenfranchisement, draconian voter ID laws, gerrymandering, reduction of polling sites and voting hours, as well as the reduction and denial of both early voting and voting by mail. The filibuster tactic (1837-present) continues to pose a threat to civil rights to this very day.

²⁰ Redlining (1934 – 1968) was the systematic denial of services and goods (e.g., housing) by private and public sectors.

²¹ Black Americans currently total 74.5 million, but median Black wealth remains at zero. This wealth gap has a deleterious effect on housing, healthcare, education, and environmental safety (such as in Flint, Michigan’s water infrastructure).

Whereas 12% of Black American men, having lost faith in the Democratic Party, dangerously swung to Donald Trump in the 2020 election, granting Republicans the highest proportion of minority voters since Nixon;²² and

Whereas political scientists concur that voters do not turn out unless they feel included, listened to, and excited; and

Whereas it then becomes vital for DA to heal a significant psychosocial wound for Black Americans, the most loyal Democratic voting bloc since the 1960s; and

Whereas it is integral that DA directly address Black Americans' unresolved demand for just repair and redress before the Republican Party offers its own illegitimate version, which could appear attractive due to lack of any alternative;²³ and

Whereas reparations prove to be not only a moral imperative, but also a politically strategic and vital one; and

Whereas there exist multiple examples of reparations throughout U.S. history^{24,25,26} and world history^{27,28} that take into account an acknowledgement of wrongdoing, offer provision of redress recognized as legitimate by the victims of those wrongs and their descendants, and provide examples of closure, where both the culpable institutions and aggrieved parties come to an agreement; and

Whereas fulfilling the national obligation of U.S. Reparations will expand Black civic engagement and increase voter enfranchisement;

²² A troubling and growing trend, 12% of Black men voted for Trump in 2020:

<https://www.theatlantic.com/culture/archive/2020/11/why-black-men-and-women-vote-so-differently/617134/>

²³ Certain conservative pundits are already weighing the merits of a GOP-backed Reparations program.

https://www.realclearpolitics.com/articles/2021/03/29/could_gop_support_for_reparations_save_america_145488.html#

²⁴ The Civil Liberties Act of 1988 granted reparations to Japanese Americans forced into internment during WWII.

²⁵ In 2019, Georgetown University, a Jesuit educational institution founded and created through chattel slave labor, began financing scholarships for Black Americans who are descendants of people held as slaves by the institution. In 2018 and 2019, faith institutions such as the Religious of the Sacred Heart, Virginia Theological Seminary, and Princeton Theological Seminary initiated slavery reparation programs.

²⁶ In 2021, Evanston, Illinois, became the first US city to formalize a reparations program, which will finance its disbursements through a system of private donorship and tax revenue from the city's own legalized marijuana economy.

²⁷ There are numerous examples of reparation initiatives in history, such as the German disbursements to the State of Israel (1952) for atrocities committed during WWII and German disbursements to Holocaust survivors.

²⁸ The most recent reparations policy of the German government to Israel (1998) includes a strong focus on memory, responsibility, and the future. It is this iteration that provides a strong example for the U.S. to follow because it fully encompasses acknowledgement of wrongs committed, redress as determined by the aggrieved, and closure as agreed upon by all parties.

Therefore Be It Resolved that the Democrats Abroad Executive Committee is dedicated to getting the resources sufficient to support H.R. 40 with an effective global campaign to reach all members to inform them about the bill, why it is significant, and how to advocate for its passage through the House and the Senate; and

Be It Further Resolved that, by July 1st, 2021, the DA Executive Committee shall form a global team responsible for Reparations Advocacy, which shall meet regularly and file a short progress report to the DPCA about their reparations advocacy annually; and

Be It Further Resolved that DA shall continue advocacy for all further Reparation bills consistent with this resolution's aims of guaranteeing reparations to Black Americans providing acknowledgement, redress through restitution and atonement, and closure.

Greetings Reparations Task Force!

I'm Jan Williams a Los Angeles native. As you review and study proposals for Reparations for Black Americans that descend from the institution of chattel slavery, I propose you study the impact of proposition 209. Black Californians are not protected by our constitutional & civil rights of 1866 due to prop 209. If you study how Black Californians have been impacted since the passage of 209 I believe you'll have evidence of harm to Black people. Thank you for your time & consideration.

Hello all,

I'm a reporter with CalMatters who published an article last week about the first reparations task force meeting. I have a request for verification of a fact that was stated during the meeting.

I included in my article the claim that Penn Mutual wrote policies to insure slaves, which was stated during the meeting by a DOJ Deputy Attorney General. Slide 10 of the DOJ's slideshow on AB 1321 also purports to show an insurance policy for slaveholders, submitted by Penn Mutual.

Penn Mutual has since contacted me, contesting this claim. They say they have no records of ever insuring slaves and point to a 2002 Department of Insurance report that says that Penn Mutual "wrote no slave insurance" and "reported that they found two documents in their archives regarding insurance policies issued to slaveholders that provided coverage for the death of slaves in Virginia. The documents provided no indication of the identity of the insurance company that issued those policies, and no indication of how or why Penn Mutual had acquired the documents in its historical archive."

I want to make sure that what we published is correct, and if not, that we update it. Here's my request: can your department please provide me with any documents or other info that verifies the claim that Penn Mutual wrote insurance policies for slaveholders to insure enslaved people ?

My deadline is close of business tomorrow, Thursday June 17.

Best,
Jackie

Subject: Journalist request re. Penn Mutual contesting claim from Reparations task force meeting

Hello all,

I'm a reporter with CalMatters who published an article last week about the first reparations task force meeting. I have a request for verification of a fact that was stated during the meeting.

I included in my article the claim that Penn Mutual wrote policies to insure slaves, which was stated during the meeting by a DOJ Deputy Attorney General. Slide 10 of the DOJ's slideshow on AB 1321 also purports to show an insurance policy for slaveholders, submitted by Penn Mutual.

Penn Mutual has since contacted me, contesting this claim. They say they have no records of ever insuring slaves and point to a 2002 Department of Insurance report that says that Penn Mutual "wrote no slave insurance" and "reported that they found two documents in their archives regarding insurance policies issued to slaveholders that provided coverage for the death of slaves in Virginia. The documents provided no indication of the identity of the insurance company that issued those policies, and no indication of how or why Penn Mutual had acquired the documents in its historical archive."

I want to make sure that what we published is correct, and if not, that we update it. Here's my request: can your department please provide me with any documents or other info that verifies the claim that Penn Mutual wrote insurance policies for slaveholders to insure enslaved people ?

My deadline is close of business tomorrow, Thursday June 17.

Best,
Jackie

Subject: Reparations- Educational Rights (Safety and Campus Climate)

Salutations member(s) of the reparations task force,

Hope this message finds you in good health and high spirits. I am Naomi Waters: a student at the University of California Riverside, and an appointed officer of Campus Climate and outgoing Racial Justice Now campaigns chair for the UC Student Association. I thank the department for its commitment to racial justice and equity and its unyielding resolve to stand up for BIPOC communities and students like me.

I ask the task force to allow Black students from the UC, CSU, and CCC to discuss their particular grievances centered around access and equity at their institutions. I believe the student experience is vital to this conversation as our systems of higher education have failed to support and address our concerns. Within the conversation of reparations, educational rights and equity must be discussed.

The University of California's particular history of anti-Blackness and institutional bias, through its investments in the prison industrial complex and other carceral logics, has its responsibility for the current condition of Black Californians outside of the institutions.

Students of color have seen their duplicity up close. From over-policing to affordability we are not being heard. As Black students continue to be brutalized and even killed by these systems, it is important to consider our experiences and conditions in these conversations.

Thank you for your consideration.
All the best,

Naomi C. W.

Do you have any other comments for the California Reparations Task Force?

Enforcement of Our legal protected class status; Housing and land grants; Grants for development of Black private communities; All the rights, protections, and Govt. benefits given to Native Americans; Life insurance; Restoration of the Black image in media; Restoration and decolonization; release of the information known about our history and who we really are to be added to school curriculums; Stop state sanctioned violence against Black Americans; A permanent office of Black American Affairs;

I would like for you to cover all bases for your decisions concerning restitution as this will establish a precedent for reparations for all black Americans at a federal level. Other than that, your doing great

Federally backed housing protections policy.

Do you have any other comments for the California Reparations Task Force?

When does the Task Force start having meetings to discuss these proposals?

What's the plan for how and who you will engage?

1) Eligibility. 2) Can this Task Force findings help with educating our schools systems with the true history of enslavement in the United States, California specifically?

Yes consider compensating seniors 1st
because of age

Do you~~s~~ have any other comments for the California Reparations Task Force?

Not at this time... But make sure therapy is on the list! (I wanna say for EVERYBODY, alas...)

Admiration for this high intensity and heartfelt work!

Thank all of you for your dedication, and stamina. Keep up the great work. God Bless

What are your ideas for how the California Reparations Task Force should engage our Community?

Public outreach with the community, giving folks the opportunity to engage - not just task force driven informational sessions is a critical requirement. Time is pressed as there are but two years to pull this together. Public engagement, outreach sessions, should have been one of the driving forces to understand the needs and expectations of black folks, not an after thought post public task force meetings.

Give each member of the community (no more than) four minutes to ask questions or share ideas.

Dedicated task force staff writer to provide periodic status reports/updates via social media and other platforms.

Forums and opportunities for community engagement and education

Keep doing what you're doing! Scripts, toolkits, public testimony, street teams, and churches.

What are your ideas for how the California Reparations Task Force should engage our Community?

DO NOT USE ATHLETES OR CELEBRITIES!!! Create, sell and wear affordable merchandise (caps, hoodies, t-shirts, etc.) to wear at events, gatherings, meetings, i.e.

Educational material about Reparations: what it really means to Black American Descendants of Slavery, and why the closing the racial wealth gap between Black Americans of DOS and white Americans is important to our survival.

Slavery Descendant Community Development Finance Institutions..

Showing up, when appropriate, at all state, county, gov sponsored events - outreach/engagement with folks on hand to explain the work to be done and importance of the work of the task force .

Feet to the pavement door to door

What are your ideas for how the California Reparations Task Force should engage our Community?

I think promotinh just this. Make it commercialize like everything that hypnotizes us. TV, Radio and social media. Have digital Marketing Media expert (Me) support. Sale it to our people like they sell us thugs and hoes. Here is how you can support you reparations follow these steps. That sold me.

Upon listening to part three of your video conference. I think a great way to began bring relief to black Americans now and study over time for more thorough studies. I would say some current racist is going on now. I reach out to the Senator right now for ways to instantly bring relief through removing exclusions from all Government funded organization. Your civil rights groups, housing, all groups discriminate against black men and sometimes the woman. Civil rights group will provides probono lawyers to immigrants, women and business but not black men. Children in foster care. I think there is a ton of legal liability you can give us like anti black hiring and, cases like Cosby with no due process.. Exclusions are a great way to being the release of the racist hold. I'm in San Jose and I want a Ward System created, I'm talking to the Senator in a week. Idk quite how to start it but I have a great proposal

Give black people the power to create Ward system. Create districts. Have a Research Development and Partnership team put together to scale the Partnerships between the leaders who are spread out to build a council. Ill share my posposal

What are your ideas for how the California Reparations Task Force should engage our Community?

You need a hired team of black male salesman who can move make information move. Verizon used black men to scale there company and get the industry edge. Salesmen with the power of CRM API system that can get data reports to you quick. We can setup a strategy, make partnerships to get public leadership entities takechange of making case studies for areas of current tragedies in each city. You Research Development and Partnership team can assign the areas of study. If the guidelines are set for what they should have in studies. When I say studies I'm talking about current obstacles that may not be historical or hinderance but some form of systematic racism is harming black America and our leaders know but they just can't help the people. I think we can spread the word on the ground. Idk I could be going left but I'm working on ways to create a Ward System if possible

I have a suggestion for your part three 10 meeting deliema. I understand the budget is for 10 but the team is will to spend more time on context and formation. Box is a great cloud solution that using all API SaaS systems that you're probably using but it will be in cloud secure Box, you won't hsvc to worry about compliance on anything, cyber security, it has templates and or wfo software. The point is it will allow the video etc to still post to YouTube but will allow a live dashboard to work with the website the task for is using. Box maybe able to leave the viewership to the public as the work is being submitted or as communication is chatted back and forward. I would rather see them use there meeting time for discussion and Box can allow the viewer ship of collaboration while the public watch that live on a dashboard

I'm sure a rep can get all your content onboarded to box. I would assume you have the tech part together. I'm just think box can allow a live few of collaboration during business hours. I would like to still see the chat and concepts put together even after the meeting.

What are your ideas for how the California Reparations Task Force should engage our Community?

Potential discussion and inclusion in category. I think there should be a clear guide to how black people can pursue lawsuits once this is revealed. Again I said right now there are a lot of exclusions in the policies, data, ALGORITHMS can't forget tech. Anyway I think the civil rights government funded organization need fast regulation change because they aren't set up to support black men. I think if legislation is brought through your research that Marine Campall team is doing. That will pull lots of lawsuits which means they have wrong black ppl. We need stream lining of recent discrimination factors to get that lump off ppl so they can get to any restitution ... I plan on reaching out to Campbell because I write Senator Dave Cortese now about Current legislation that excluded black ppl that's violates our constitutional rights. I would like to share that info if I can.

I think the Commission on Social Status for Black Men and Boys should be consider with this study. They're study is crucial to reparations through the exclusion in society all together the black man faces.

Also Red lining and recent even back to 2007 when people first started losing their homes due to the war. Count the times we didn't get bail outs and lost our homes. We need financial reinstatement. Some ppl were unfairly fired, anti blacking hiring is a crisis, displaced professional because of corporate racist culture. Corporate push unions out to keep their employees in fear

Economic war is an anastrosity. We operate in few spaces. Exclusions in wealth industries. I'm dealing with now, again money, contracts etc excluded grass roots because of the lack of generational history with business. Grass Roots should have special inclusions to be offered trsi inh for money that's being offered for contract projects such as construction, vending, or military contracts. We need inclusion

211 What are your ideas for how the California Reparations Task Force should engage our Community?

Eradicate LAPD, Sheriff's and other police officers who do nothing, but criminalize Blacks in our Black Communities and bring in only those Black People who show by example and teach the youth, as well as stopping all pain these corrupt police officers have caused. Please do not tell me there are not any corrupt cops on our streets in Black Communities in California. I am a retired California Correctional Peace Officer from the Dept. of Correction's & Paroles. I have read many C-Files, talked to many criminals and Parolees as well as observed, spoken to and wrote up many Peace Officers. I say there are many well educated & talented peaceful ex-peace officers I worked with and know. Unfortunately, many of us were Black and criminalized by racist white Peace Officers, because we refused to be used for corrupt purposes, abuse, assault, set up and write false reports to falsely convict the incarcerated as well as abuse inmates, especially Black inmates. It is time to re-write the rules of engagement, unwritten laws and the way policing is conducted. In fact, how policing is done in white neighborhoods varies completely from how policing is done in Black neighborhoods. A fast & furious AI special investigative unit who observes, watches over and conducts investigations on the streets through America to serve, protect and educate mainly our own Black Communities. The tearing down of our Black Communities by bias, racist policing must be stopped now. It has done nothing, but criminalize & murder innocent Black People, including us Black working & retired Peace Officers. I know many talented & educated Warden's, Deputy Warden's, Associate Warden's, Captains, Lieutenants, Sergeant's, Officers, Parole Agents I, II, III & those who ran Parole Departments. Special Police, Sheriffs, Police, in fact, my mother Mrs. G.D. Walker was number 3 as the best Counselor in the Dept of Corrections and a hell of a writer. She was tasked with re-writing all of the procedures for the Southern California Fire Camps and she did! Those racists disrespected and hated my mother for doing what was right and her job! My mother is a double major from Cal Poly who started on the streets in Los Angeles as a Deputy Sheriff in the 1970's. My mother was wronged and not given a promotion for all of the pain those hateful white racists males caused her. She is still suffering from almost 30 years of service. I would not have believed it, until I worked for the same department both my parents worked. Yes, my father too! So, please do not say I am imagining what we endured in law enforcement. My name is Cher'ie Roslyn Walker and my e-mail is cherieroslyn@gmail.com. My number is 3107660026 and I have envisioned for years the changes we must make for the love of our people everywhere. We who were in law enforcement and still in these departments are ready. It is time, for 400 years of our pain of suffering we have paid for the sins of our fathers and our's is over. It is time to teach and show love to our people, as well as provide services to stop the trauma from happening that our people has been through, since 1619. Ms Pauline Clay who helped write the Reparations's Act and I have spoken on this many times. It is time to make our people a priority. Proper housing, education services, health services, mental services, technical & technology taught to our people to restore and bring job opportunities and business opportunities that we alone control and most of all love & trust must be instilled among our people and to our people. No more Co-intel-pro nor corrupt FBI nor corrupt agencies to police our people!

What are your ideas for how the California Reparations Task Force should engage our Community?

I hope you guys request more money from the federal government to complete this Task in its whole with nothing left out. Not one Native Black American

I like the idea of community meetings. We are in Sacramento and would love to help. DerrellRoberts- Roberts Family Development Center

Some in our community get information from mainstream media. Maybe try to spread the message through that platform.

Reparations Task Force Members
Attorney General's Office
California Department of Justice

Dear Reparations Task Force Members:

The California Council of Community Behavioral Health Agencies (CBHA) would like to take this opportunity to welcome and congratulate each of you for your appointment as members of the Reparations Task Force, spearheaded by then-Assemblymember Shirley Weber. Your leadership and expertise will be vital in this first-in-the-nation effort to examine the institution of slavery and its present-day impact on the lives of Black Americans.

On behalf of our Board of Directors and members, we write to offer our support and assistance where it may be useful to the Task Force's efforts. CBHA is a statewide association of mental health and substance use disorder non-profit community agencies that provide behavioral health services to over 750,000 Californians. We believe that Californians deserve a comprehensive, community-based behavioral health system that is adequately funded. We support the integration of behavioral health, physical health, housing, education and vocational rehabilitation services for children, youth, adults, and older adults.

CBHA recognizes the impact of health disparities on the communities our member agencies serve. In particular, many racial and ethnically diverse communities continue to suffer from behavioral health conditions at disproportionate rates when compared to their white counterparts. According to the National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities (NIMHD), Black Americans are 20 percent more likely to experience serious psychological distress than the general population. In addition, Black adults are more likely to report feelings of sadness and hopelessness than white adults, but less than 9 percent of Black adults receive mental health services, compared to 18.6 percent of white adults. For communities of color in the United States, particularly the Black community, the psychological impact of discrimination, racism, and historical trauma is severe, which exacerbates stigma that in turn impacts their willingness to participate in treatment.

CBHA is exploring ways to address these inequalities through its innovative projects spearheaded by its Race and Social Equity Task Force (RSET). We continue to advocate with our partners in behavioral health to address the racial pandemic in our state and country. In 2020, a coalition of organizations, including CBHA, led by our colleagues at California Pan-Ethnic Health Network (CPEHN), sent a letter to Governor Newsom urging him to immediately issue an Executive Order declaring racism to be a public health crisis. These important state-level efforts have inspired several city councils, county boards of supervisors, and other local governing bodies across California to adopt resolutions declaring racism a public health crisis. As CBHA and the California Alliance of Child & Family Services (CA Alliance) represent agencies that provide service to these jurisdictions, we joined to release a statement encouraging all counties to join in adopting similar declarations. We were proud to see that our county partners have joined the movement.

CBHA stands ready to support your Task Force and provide any assistance and information to further the mission and goals of the Task Force. We look forward to working with you in this critical endeavor. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at 916-557-1166 *400 or lclarkharvey@cccbha.org.

Subject: Black California and the Great Migration: Stories

Heard the Task Force is looking for stories from Californians whose ancestors were enslaved, detailing how and/or why their descendants made their way to California. I have a few, as my family on both sides were enslaved and paved a path to California.

My great great grandmother Nancy Gooch was brought to California as a slave in 1849, “freed” in 1850 when California entered statehood. Her grandson Pearley married by great grandmother Evelyn in 1931 at Kyles Temple in Oak Park – one of the first black churches in Sacramento. My great great grandparents on my mom’s side of the family are founding members of that church.

My great great grandparents (maternal) Pleasant and George Bent were enslaved in Missouri, arriving in California in the 1880s. Pleasant’s brother Henry served in the 2nd Regiment US Colored Artillery and is buried at Sacramento’s Historic Cemetery on Broadway.

My great great grandfather Simon was enslaved in Georgia, his Father John Binion was his enslaver. The Binion family enslaved some 100 plus men, women, and children. Not only my great great grandfather Simon, but a great great aunt on my maternal side – Luvina Fields (DC Ex-Slave Pension Case Files). Simon’s son Anias was hung, and his home burned in the 1920s killing one of his children. His wife, my great grandmother Evelyn came to California with her 3 kids in toe in 1927. Although black she would pass for white, earning a nursing degree and working for white families in Georgia before coming out to California and marrying Pearley (step grandfather), her 2nd husband.

All coming to California, except for Nancy, in hopes of a life void of racism and the lingering ills of slavery. Unfortunately, this wasn’t what many experienced – racism and inequities thrived; subtlety applied until they became the norm.

Dear DOJ California Reparations Task Force,

I hope this email finds you well! I am Anjali Patel, and I work with Dr. Mary T Bassett, the director of the Harvard University Center devoted to Health and Human Rights. Her work primarily works with the intersection of public health and structural racism. We are writing with a request to do an informational interview with you regarding your city's work on reparations for African enslavement.

Like many, we have a growing interest in the feasibility and utility of reparations for African enslavement and the racially discriminatory policies that followed. We have been mainly a research center, so our interest has been in projecting the potential health impact of such actions. This might expand the case to one of improving health, in addition to the compelling moral case. Of course, for many locations, the details are not yet clear.

We received a grant from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation to characterize the reparations landscape. We were hoping to meet with you to discuss further.

If you have time for a phone or zoom conversation with our team, that would be great. If you agree, we will reach out in the future to coordinate scheduling.

Would you please let us know if you would be willing to meet? Meanwhile, stay safe.

Best,

Anjali

If we notice how the controllers of the media shamed Blacks into nobodiness ("3/5ths human") to justify our subjugation, underling status, the same profiteers and rulers of the Afrikan serfdom trade then justified demolishing a Christian, counter NWO in Germany with World Wars, one first step for justifying Restitutions if identifying the directly enslaving, slavocracyimps. We are being ignored into oblivion and an everlasting [generational] status, because we fear alleged discriminatory labels. Blacks were the original Jews, so we can't be antisemitic. Imagine the fortitude we'd have to organize for Black Reparations if we were resegregated. ASSimilation submits us. Ref, The *Secret Relationship Between Blacks & Jews.

Jews are the most cruel of slave traders.

Page 82 of Vol. 1 of Secret Relationship Between Blacks and Jews, tells how some Africans rebelled in South America.

(Jews also traded slaves in Brazil and other countries in South America)

An observer of the slave traffic noted -

"Every Jewish trader who got a license for 100 Africans casually loaded 5 times that number into their ship." But they were given free reign to sell the rest."

"Traders "bribed the governor and treasurer with slaves and cash for permission to land twice as many slaves as registered."

"[Adolf Hitler] has no doubt in his mind that the Jewish problem is the center of all problems, not merely in Germany, but in the world. It is useless to dismiss this as an illusion, because if it is, it demands explanation.

But it is no illusion. It is the truth. Hitler's declaration that the Jewish consciousness is poison to the Aryan races is the deepest insight that the Western world has yet achieved in its own nature; and his capacity to realize this is the proof of his genius"

Subject: Why can't government leadership ?

I'd say all of this task Force needs an entire day of history of civil war. A state that never had slavery want to pay non slaves purely because they our black. One question. The money can only come from taxes of other American's. Update. Tax is taken from money earned. Not given. What's stopping black Americans from working to earn money? Not black ownership bye whites. The only way in California black government eyes is the same head start white skin in America is afforded. The inability to respect one choices and self improvement on their own decisions should be important. Not the reason behind the high numbers of black people to stop blaming and take accountability for life lived. Why because then it shows how maybe America freeing black people was mistake because at least providing all reasonable daily life for another person gave some kind of reasons to take care of someone based on skin only. Imagine if my job as a waiter gets a party of black people not working for their money but using my money to eat from me. Then God forbid the fact that im so white why would they tip me. That be dumb because government told me his ancestor hate is his hate too. Hello thats slavery. If you want to be a slave master. Tell the truth. If you want fair. Start educating your people to fucking all day and work. Save money. Take care of themselves and kids. Stop shooting each other. Pay ur bills. Don't comment crime. Stop voting for democrats. Stop judging skin. Hold ur leadership accountable. This idea is hate. You know it. I can add for you. 166 years slavey ended. Slaves didn't build America. They pick cotton. With these actions it's sad I'd imagine black people in your place in life would probably own you because combined all of you might be good at only one thing. Picking cotton. Definitely not leading. Hello,

My name is Karim W. Rahmaan, an African American and descendant of U.S. Slaves, and I subscribe to the AB 3121: Reparations Task Force Mailing List.

I wanted to submit more evidence on why Reparations (monetary) for descendants of slaves is more than necessary, and how the lack of has left damages realizable today.

See the recent report which includes one of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors on how systemic racism has encouraged homelessness by landlords discriminating in housing for black people, found by the link below:

<https://www.lahsa.org/documents?id=2823-report-and-recommendations-of-the-ad-hoc-committee-on-black-people-experiencing-homelessness>

I have already submitted more direct proof found within the California Law which unmistakably warrants reparations to descendants of slaves. Namely, civil sections included in a letter already addressed and sent to Senator Bradly (see attached).

Humbly,
Karim Rahmaan

Hello Senator,

My name is Karim Rahmaan and I support the AB3121 Task Force to Study and Develop Reparation Proposals for African Americans.

In the inclosed attachments you will find supporting documents of California Law which is still today in conjunction with slavery.

Please note in #1 it states, "to serve his master, other than seduction, abduction.." Condoning abduction of a servant or implied slave.

Also found here: https://leginfo.legislature.ca.gov/faces/codes_displaySection.xhtml?lawCode=CIV§ionNum=49.

Also, note in #2 it also reads, "servant, master.." Promoting slaves to protect their enslavers rathan than seeking freedom, restitution, or remedy.

Also found here: https://leginfo.legislature.ca.gov/faces/codes_displaySection.html?lawCode=CIV§ionNum=50.

Senator. My duty as a law abiding citizen led me to forward this to you.
